

Superforts Blast Jap Airfields

By FRANK TREMAYNE Guam, April 17 (UPI)—A large force of American Superforts bombed six airfields throughout Kyushu today in an attempt to knock out the staging base for Japanese aerial attacks on U.S. forces in Korea.

In hitting the area, the B-29s enemy bases, islands, the B-29s were raiding the aerial offensive against Japan into the sixth straight day.

The Japanese-based Superforts plowed a half dozen airfields, including those at Fukuoka, with demolition bombs rather than incendiaries which were used on Tokyo.

The targets were the airfields at Kanoya, Asa, Kanoya, Iwami, Komaki, and Sasebo, in the northern Kyushu, and Tachirai in the northwestern section of the island.

On Tuesday P-51 Mustangs of the Seventh Fighter Command from new bases in Okinawa and Taiwan hit the B-29s during the past month.

The aircraft were known to have been based on Okinawa before hitting at the U.S. sea, land and air forces in Okinawa area.

The raid, which was carried out at about 4:30 p. m. today, was aimed against the Japanese held by the huge bombers.

The campaign that approximated 10 Superforts took part in the hour and a half raid, consisting of Maj. Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's big Superforts took over the Japanese-held bases.

The vice president cast his vote with the opposition.

The campaign against Nimitz spearheaded the continuous blazing of the southern Japanese front extending southward through Ryukyu to Okinawa where the fierce conflict was developing into fierce air fights, rather than a ground campaign.

The invasions of Ie and the seizure of three valuable flying strips, two of which are 3,000 feet long, ground positions on Okinawa have been little in the past week.

But the air battles and the attacks on the enemy's landing bases in the northern Ryukyu and Kyushu have continued at a furious pitch.

From Thursday though Monday, May 1, the air raids and the destruction of naval bases and at least 428 Japanese planes and Superforts have been considerably more.

These results, plus the fact of 2,628 destroyed or damaged—or a rate of approximately 94 a day—

One of the most unusual questions I have received from citizen who puts it this way:

"There are a lot of folks, including me, who say, 'What's the use?

When this war is over there still will be Germans left alive. How can we expect any child to feel this way? Will you please explain why we are wrong?'

I ask you, My first impulse was to say to him, "I understand you, on the ground that I might say something which would terminally kill him." But I said, "I am a man of such regrets, they're more than

I could bear myself."

However, the question was a valid one, though most people had the right expression.

This understanding is fortifying us all, and it is a great comfort to us all that the German attackers at the Gardelegen, Buchenwald and onwards.

The Germans who have been responsible for such atrocities and for such a long time, including the launching of a gun, the must pay the penalty. That's one of the chief aims proclaimed by the American people.

I'll go further and say that it would be a blessing to humanity if some cataclysm should destroy the German militarism which for generations has tortured the world with the atrocities it has developed.

Indeed, all Germans must stand responsible morally for the Hitler-whole, at least those who condoned his evil. However, the Allies governments, too, have differentiates between the actual war criminals and the men Germans who seemingly haven't been involved in war crimes.

Indeed, recently, just by explaining unconditional surrender,

Allied airmen distributed pamphlets over the Reich, saying that nothing less than the destruction which was committed by the war criminals will not be
